By The Associated Press

Heavy snow, sleet, rain and sub-freezing temperatures arrived in north Arkansas early today, endangering some fruit crops and making highway travel hazardous in the latest round of freak spring weather.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said that temperatures would drop to about 25 in the north and central sections tonight, with three to six inches of snow forecast for some mountainous areas. Rain and a low of 32 to 33 was forecast for south Arkansas.

Bridges were reported icing over on some north Arkansas roads by 10 a. m., and Rogers, Harrison and Fayetteville reported heavy snow. The snow was mixed with rain and sleet in most instances.

If the temperature drops to the predicted 25 and remains there several hours, the multi-million-dollar peach crop, which is centered in Clarksville, could be wiped out. A temperature of 25 would delay northeast Arkansas' strawberry harvest and result in a 10 per cent crop loss.

Also susceptible to subfreezing temperatures are young tomato plants which have been transplanted recently in south Arkansas fields. Tomatoes are the major cash crop in Bradley County. A low of 32 to 35 was forecast for that area.

Doctor Drowns When Auto Goes Into Water

HAMPTON (AP) — Three men escaped and one drowned last night when a car plunged off U. S. Highway 187 near here and plunged into the backwaters of Ouachita River.

The body of Doctor Robert Hyatt, 45, prominent Monticello physician, was recovered several hours after the accident.

Three other men in the car escaped from the submerged car and swam to safety, suffering only minor injuries.

They were Bill Wells of Monticello and R. H. Bennington and Abbott Kinney, both of Dermott. Officers said the car plunged into 12 feet of water after it had struck a pile on the highway, about 12 miles south of here.

The Ouachita River is located nearly two miles from the scene of the accident, but water from the swollen stream extends for many miles on either side of the river.

Police said water was near the top of the road embankment at the point where the car carrying the four men left the highway.

23% Slashed From State Dept. Funds

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today slashed 23 per cent from new funds requested by the State Department and the United States Information Agency. It criticized them both for what it called "a mazing and unprecedented" personnel practices.

It refused to approve any money for 2,123 new positions the two agencies requested and for continuance of 950 jobs established during the present fiscal year without prior consideration or appropriations by Congress.

In a sharply worded report written by Rep. Rooney (D-N.Y.), the committee described "fiscal irresponsibility on the part of the State Department and irresponsible handling of the taxpayers' money in connection with foreign programs financed with funds appropriated to the President."

The report accompanied a bill recommending these appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1:

State Department, $180,382,743, a cut of 47,331,809, or almost 26 per cent, from presidential requests and $41,317,329 less than was provided this year.

U. S. Information Agency, $108,100,000, a 28 per cent cut amounting to $37,900,000 and 6,900,000 less than was provided this year.

The committee stipulated that Voice of America overseas broadcasts are not to be cut and cautioned that "propagandizing the American public."

Funds appropriated to the President for international cultural and trade fair programs, $1,900,000, a cut of $7,600,000 or 41 per cent, from requests and 7 1/2 millions less than current year appropriations.

Justice Department, $227,855,000 a 2 per cent cut amounting to $6,00,000 but an increase of $11,811,350 over current year money. The FBI was allotted every dollar it requested, including a $5,940,000 boost over this year's funds.

Federal judiciary, $2,582,050, a 5 per cent cut of $2,248,200 from requests but $2,240,615 more than the courts had this year.

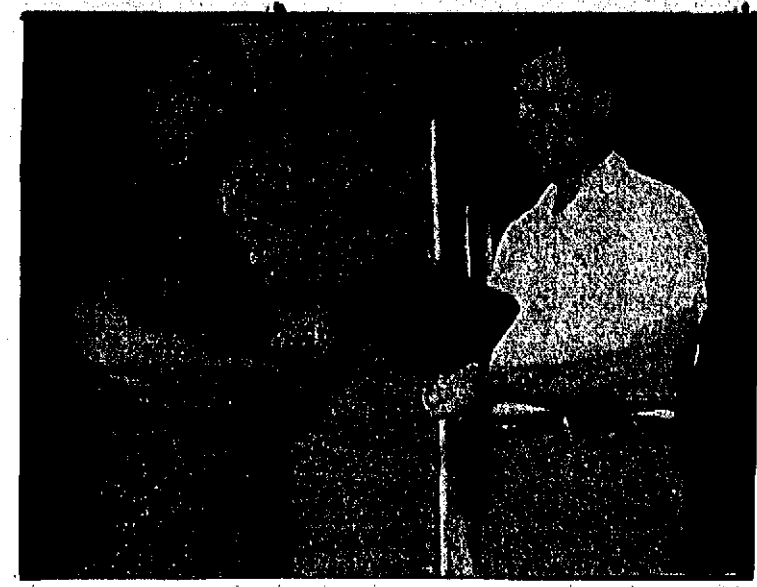

All the funds were embodied in an omnibus bill providing new appropriations of $53,799,793, a reduction of $101,850,009, or 15 per cent, from requests and $41,685,364 less than current year funds. If the House sustains the committee's recommendations when it considers the bill next week—and it may cut even deeper—it will have boosted to $1,140,000,000 its total outlay to date this year on eight annual money bills.

Seidman said the committee been so biting in its criticism as it was concerning the State Department and the Information Agency, which operates U. S. propaganda programs abroad.

No Request for Data Says Security Group

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Morris, counsel of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, said today the State Department has not asked for an opportunity to check any future testimony about foreign officials before publication.

The State Department, meantime, challenged earlier reports that it had cleared for publication the transcript of a hearing involving Canadian diplomat E. H. Norman.

The subcommittee's release of closed-door testimony linking Norman to communism, after he already had been cleared by his own government, aroused angry protests in Canada.

Norman, who was the Canadian ambassador to Egypt, committed suicide in Cairo after publication of the subcommittee transcript.

The Canadian government protested what it called the "irresponsible allegation against Norman, and advised the State Department two days ago it reserved the right to halt further exchanges of security information with his government unless assured it would be withheld from congressional committees.

It said it was willing for such information to be passed on to committees of Congress only when it specifically agreed — a condition that U. S. officials said would be difficult to meet.

Morris, in answer to questions by newsmen, said that the subcommittee has received "no request from the State Department asking us to clear anything as a result of this."

He was asked if the subcommittee might seek clearance from the department in any future case regardless of whether it was requested to do so.

"There is no change in committee policy for procedure," he replied.

100 Feared Lost in Ferry Boat Sinking

HIROSHIMA (AP) — A small ferryboat carrying more than twice its registered passenger capacity rammed a rocky obstruction in Japan's picturesque Inada sea today and sank quickly. More than 100 persons were feared lost.

The boat was en route from Setoda to Onomichi with vacationing Japanese tourists.

Japanese defense forces rushed to the area. Patrol boats converged on the winding waterway between the islands of Honshu and Shikoku.

The Kitagawa Maru went down in the same general area where the Shin Maru sank in May 1955 with a death toll of 160. Japan's worst ferryboat disaster was the capsizing during a typhoon of the Toya Maru Sept. 26, 1954. A total of 1,172 persons were drowned, including 56 Americans.

Petitions Out for Repeal of Sales Tax Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Alex Washburn, publisher of the Hope Star said today that he would begin the circulation of petitions this week end in an attempt to repeal the 3 per cent sales tax.

The two sets of petitions—one calling for a special election, another for referendum to the 1958 general election — were approved a few days ago by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett.

Washburn said that it was an "absolute certainty" that he would collect the 60,000 signatures required to refer the tax to a special election. He said that he had received "several hundred" letters from persons who wanted to help circulate the petitions.

The petition which calls for referendum to the 1958 general election requires only about 29,000 signatures. Washburn said that he was circulating the second petition at the same time as "insurance" in the event his campaign should be sidetracked by a legal technicality as was a similar campaign to get a popular vote on the livestock and poultry feed sales tax exemption measure two years ago.

The act that Washburn seeks to refer to a popular vote raised the sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent on Feb. 15. If his move is successful, and a majority vote for repeal in the election, the tax will revert to 2 per cent.

STAMPS (AP) — A fall possibly saved a panic-stricken housewife from death or serious injury here yesterday.

Mrs. A. J. Dennis said she accidentally leaped against her gas cookstove, igniting her apron strings. She said she began to run when the flames reared up her back toward her hair.

Mrs. Dennis said, however, she slipped on a rug and fell, and then regained enough composure to smother out the flames with the rug.

Following treatment for burns by a physician, Mrs. Dennis said that all she received from the experience were "blisters, bruises from the fall and a perfectly good dress gone up in smoke."

Beck May Be Called Back, Probers Say

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President Dave Beck apparently is headed for another session with Senate racket investigators.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) told newsmen yesterday that in the light of newly uncovered evidence, "it is highly probable Beck will be called back at some future time."

McClellan did not give any clue to the nature of the evidence, nor did he say when Beck might be recalled.

The Arkansas senator is chairman of the Senate committee which last month sought without success to get replies from Beck to its questions about his finances. The committee, which is charged with searching out evidence of corruption in labor and management, has said Beck used $32,000 in Teamsters Union funds for his own purposes.

Beck already is in trouble with the AFL-CIO for invoking the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer the committee's questions. He contended his answers might tend to incriminate him and noted that the Internal Revenue Service has been investigating him.

Beck, whose union is one of the biggest in the nation, has called the Teamster Executive Board to meet Tuesday in Galveston, Tex., to decide whether to defend the union against the AFL-CIO's charges of "corrupt" influence in its upper echelons.

McClellan talked with newsmen after he had conferred with Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel who returned yesterday from a 10-day coast-to-coast investigating mission. Kennedy reported to McClellan and other committee members behind closed doors.

The committee plans to resume public hearings here Tuesday, this time looking into affairs of several unions in the Scranton, Pa., area.

L. R. Votes on Directors November 5

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mayor Woodrow Mann today called a special election for Nov. 5 to select seven directors for the new city manager form of government.

Mann issued the proclamation a short time after an alderman said that the mayor had taken a "sudden interest" in his office only because the City Council had threatened to impeach him.

Mann's critics have repeatedly said that the election should have been called immediately. The mayor's 2-year term of office will end in January.

Citizens here voted overwhelmingly last November to change to the city manager form of government but the change cannot be made until Mann calls a special election.

Loy said, "Mann has been advised that if he is not careful the Council may seek to impeach him. This, I believe, is the reason for his sudden interest in the office he holds."

"I will propose that the Council appropriate the rest of the year's salary to Mann, just as a school could do to a fired football coach."

Asked about the proposed ordinance, Mann said, "I'd vote it on the spot."

Housewife Falls, Saved From Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today passed an extra 41 million dollars in a move to prevent prolonged curtailment of mail service.

The committee action, taken behind closed doors, was by a vote reported as 37-10.

The amount approved is six million dollars less than the Post Office Department requested and is for use during the next 2 1/2 months.

It is 24 million dollars more than a subcommittee had recommended after Postmaster General Summerfield said it would be necessary to halt Saturday mail delivery and cut back other postal services if he didn't get more money immediately.

The House will consider the Appropriations Committee's recommendations Monday and is expected to approve them quickly so the Senate can act on once and get the bill to the President.

The new allotment would boost to $2,165,000,000 the funds given the Post Office Department for the fiscal year ending June 30.

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The postman won't ring tomorrow—unless the postmaster general changes his mind.

That leaves the bell rope with the House Appropriations Committee, meeting in closed session today to decide whether Postmaster General Summerfield should get the 47 million dollars extra he says he needs to operate mail service normally through June.

Most Democratic committee members agreed informally at a caucus yesterday to give him 41 to 44 million, a figure reportedly agreeable to committee Republicans. Last week, a subcommittee recommended 24 million.

Summerfield made it plain this was far from enough.

Whatever the committee recommends, the House can't act until Monday — it's not meeting today. The Senate was reported ready to act as soon as the House sends it a bill.

Summerfield told newsmen yesterday he would not be able to restore any of the scheduled mail service cuts until a bill giving him sufficient funds has passed both House and Senate and has been signed by President Eisenhower.

Under orders already issued, all post offices will be closed on Saturdays and Sundays and all city and rural mail delivery will be stopped on Saturdays, except for special delivery items.

On Monday, deliveries to city business districts will be cut to two a day and post office window service will be reduced.

All third class mail — chiefly advertising matter and small merchandise — is scheduled to be discontinued April 29, except for certain medical items. On the same day, sales of money orders will be halted at first and second class post offices.

A suit was filed in Federal District Court here yesterday seeking to restrain Summerfield from suspending the third class mail service.

Associated Third-Class Mail Users Inc., with headquarters here, and Spencer Gills Inc., of Atlantic City, N. J., filed the injunction suit jointly. They contended Summerfield's order, as it applies to third class mail, "constitutes an exercise of unlawful authority." They said that unless the injunction is issued, they "will continue to suffer irreparable damages."

Easter Nearly

nadoes and floods — have been disappointing so far. "The weather," says Chairman Earl Puckett of the giant Allied Stores Corp., "has a knocked Easter prospects into a cocked hat."

Along with the weather handicaps, merchants have come up against a new breed of consumer. This consumer is cagey. Sure, he has money, and he'll spend it too. But he pants for value for what he pays. And he drives a hard bargain.

In Detroit, for example, his first choice for an Easter outfit is likely to be that old favorite, the two-piece suit.

There are bright signs too. One is the booming teen-age market. Merchants from coast to coast report that the "Sloppy Joe" craze is dying out.

"The kids want dress up," says the owner of a swank Midwest apparel shop. "The girls who used to buy dungarees are buying swirling skirts and petticoats. The boys are buying sports jackets and Ivy League slacks."

Brightest hope of all, right now is the prospect of a turn in the weather. There are still eight shopping days left. That could mean an 11th-hour buying surge that would put total Easter sales this year on a par with last year's record volume.

Other trends reported by merchants: Despite more cautious buying habits, Easter shoppers give no indication of having been scared by "depression" talk. Curtailed overtime in manufacturing centers has reduced the amount of ready cash in shoppers' pockets but these customers are making greater use of charge accounts.

Prices of Easter merchandise show little change from a year ago although wool and worsted apparel items may be a shade higher.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — A group of National Park Service officials will conduct a survey of Arkansas Post today and tomorrow to determine whether the site of the state's first settlement should be made a national park.

Harrington, Richmond, Va., a regional historian for the service; Dr. Preston Holder, St. Louis, archaeologist at Washington University; and Dr. Robert E. He lettered in football at the University of Arkansas in 1920. Survivors include the widow and a daughter.

supplies of eggs, housewives can look forward to continued plentiful supplies of another staple, potatoes. Heavy supplies of new potatoes are in prospect to add to a March 1 carryover of last fall's potatoes.

That big carryover of fall potatoes puts them back in the outstanding buy category this week, produce men say, along with storage carrots from last fall.

The new potatoes from southern fields, and Idaho's baking potatoes, are rated as good buys. So are sweet potatoes, beans, asparagus, new cabbage, broccoli, celery and storage onions.

This spring's onions, mostly from Texas, are still a bit on the high side of a good buy, along with cauliflower, squash, artichokes and sweet corn.

The Rare Adventure
by BERNARD FERGUSON

XXIX

He had been asleep, he said, in his presbytery — what a nerve he must have, thought Allan — when he had heard a knocking at his door, and opening it cautiously had not been reassured to recognize Georges Fernana. But Georges, having prevailed on him to let him in, had given him some account of the proceedings of the afternoon and evening, and of where Allan was awaiting him.

"I was surprised," said Paleologue. "I had not seen Georges Fernana for a year or two, but I have always looked on him as the cleverest of the three brothers, and the most subtle."

"Tell me your adventures since I last saw you," said Allan. "Adventures? I have had none. I shall have to scold my parishioners when I see them again, for their attendance at Mass yesterday was very bad. I have been thinking much more of you and Madame Larg, and of the good sisters. Were they all right when you last saw them?"

"Yes, everybody was all right when I left. Oh, but you wouldn't know about Billon. He was wounded pretty badly. I'm afraid," and he told Paleologue the details.

Allan told Paleologue of his adventures at Clusium, and of what he had seen there, and Paleologue listened entranced. When he heard of the interview before luncheon with Mother Fernana, he was consumed with envy.

Allan explained how Georges had turned up the light to show the body of the Kaid lying upon the bed. Paleologue exclaimed aloud, and crossed himself. Allan described the scene in full, and found that despite the coolness of the night he was sweating with its memory.

This time Paleologue was deadly serious. "You have stumbled on the explanation of all that has mystified me. I have always fancied that the secret lay somewhere in Clusium. That is the shadow that has hung over Seknou nearly two centuries. The shadow must be dispelled. The body must be buried and allowed to crumble. The place itself must be re-excavated."

"I don't find it easy to go, but I'd like to, so let me go on. And he told his defiance of Mother Fernana, his incarceration, his escape, his encounter with Georges, and of Georges' long talk with him during the first half of the night, as they sailed towards Seknou.

"Do you think that there is any possibility of the French considering Georges' idea of giving Seknou some sort of independence under strict supervision, with the more trustworthy element as nominal rulers?" asked Allan.

"A great deal depends on who comes to relieve poor Captain Billon. If they send a good senior man, one with experience and sense, one who will consult Pere Paleologue with his 30 years of experience, then we may get a man with the powers and the wisdom not to be afraid of making a bold decision. But we must see first whether your friend Georges is able to handle his countrymen."

It was almost 8 o'clock, and the coming dawn was showing palely in the sky, before they heard Georges coming along the quay. His friend had been nervous about the mission.

"I am sure there must be some solution," said Paleologue. "If only I could think of it. I find that I am thinking of such foolish things as the Morse code on my church bell!" He broke off in mid-laugh, and looked at the rapidly lightening sky. "My church bell, mon Dieu! I must go and ring it! I must also remember Captain Billon in my prayers."

He was off down the stairs.

Testifies He

Feb. 25, 1953, "on business" — knowing there were gamblers and other underworld figures there. He said he and Langley sat at a table just inside the door of the place and that he saw gambling equipment.

Asked by Langley's attorney if it occurred to him to try to stop the gambling, Milola said: "No, it didn't."

The attorney, K. C. Tanner, said in his opening statement that Langley, the chief legal officer of Multnomah County (Portland), had been in the foyer of the night club and that he had observed gambling.

But, Tanner said, Langley did not think he could prosecute under Oregon law because the group was engaged in a charitable activity — the funds from the gambling going to the PAL Club, a police-sponsored youth organization, and to other charitable and civic groups.

The state contends that Langley's failure to take action at the time was incidental to a conspiracy to open Multnomah County to gambling.

Another witness yesterday, Mrs. Ruth Hennessy, testified she saw Langley in the room of the night club where she was operating a "high dice" game.

She said she was employed to run the table for the annual fundraising party of the Paint, Lacquer and Varnish Assn.

Elliot Cummings, who is prosecuting the case against Langley, said that William B. Nettleton and Portland racketeer Big Jim Elkins were partners in the gambling operation. Last month Elkins was a star witness before the Senate committee investigating labor racketeering.

Langley also was a witness at the hearing. He cited the Fifty Amendment to protect himself from possible self-incrimination when asked certain questions about vice conditions here.

Should Langley be found guilty of the charge on which he is being tried, he would be removed from office and possibly fined. Here also are a number of other indictments pending against him including accusations of malfeasance, perjury and conspiracy to accept a bribe and obstruct justice.

This is the first major case to come to trial after a year long investigation of vice and corruption here. Some 3 persons have been indicted.

Circuit Judge Frank J. Lonergan, who is trying the case, declined a request by Langley's attorneys that television and newspaper photographers be banned from the courtroom. He photo-graphers have been permitted to take pictures with natural light only, flashes being barred.

"I'd like to tell you something else," he said. "I wasn't strictly neutral yesterday morning. I — He broke off, for they both heard the sound of footsteps running up the stairs — a single pair of feet, coming as fast as was possible in the dark."

"Colonel, Colonel," cried Paleologue's breathless voice. "Yes, what is it?" said Allan. "Look out to sea!"

Allan nipped up to the topmost stair, while Georges stood still and Paleologue panted up past him. There, standing in to the coast, was a man-of-war, not more than two miles offshore, her upper works showing black against the flush of dawn along the seas horizon.

"The French Navy," said Allan, calmly, "and even more welcome than usual."

Overlow Cancels Ferry Service

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The St. Charles Ferry, which links Arkansas and Monroe counties, was to be closed at noon today because of the overflowing White River, the state Highway Department said.

The department said the ferry facilities cannot be used during high-water periods. It was closed for two weeks earlier this year.

Pontiac Springs Another "First!"

-Lowest Priced Car with Tri-Power Carburetion!

Pontiac started 'em all talking by tagging this eye-popping Chieftain below 30 models of the low-price three. Now Pontiac has tossed another firecracker into the low-price field... with Tri-Power Carburetion available at extra cost on any model. Pontiac alone at so low a cost offers this sensational track-proved carburetion system that has officially outperformed super-charged and fuel injection cars. Here's how it works: For normal driving, only one of three double-barrel carburetors is in operation. When you want a safety-surge of power, press your toe and pronto! — the other two carburetors pour out a bonus of go as long as you need it. Ease up... and you're back to the gas-saving economy of one-carburetor operation! In short — your new Pontiac Chieftain can be tame or terrific — at the touch of a toe! Try it, and you'll see why they're billing their nails in the low-price field. Check the car... check the price... and all bets are that you'll graduate to Pontiac with plenty left over in your budget to celebrate the occasion!

Sunday School
Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
The insistent and persistent question that, it seems to me, underlies all organized Christianity is one of the personal relationship of men and women to the Christ — the Jesus of Galilee of the New Testament.

To what extent does His example and His teaching dominate their lives? Does the love that He enjoined in the two great commandments (Mark 12:28-34) manifest itself in their outlook and attitude, in their daily life and conduct?

These two commandments: to love God with all the heart and soul and mind, and to love one's neighbor as one's self, it should never be forgotten, are not peculiar to Christianity.

They were not inventions, or origination, of the Master, but a part, the great basic part, of the Jewish religion of his law and the prophets that Jesus said He had come to fulfill, not to destroy.

In one sense, Jesus was the founder of Christianity. But He was not a founder in the sense that others have been founders of cults or systems of religion.

If one looks earnestly into the life, teaching, and mission of Jesus, the outstanding fact is that what the Gospels reveal is not a religion, but religion in all its essence and basis in God's relation to man, and man's relation to God, and the relations of men to one another.

The religious world of Jesus, like the world of the universe in which we live, is a world of spiritual facts and laws. It is not a world in which there is anything artificial or invented.

In a sense, it could be said that Jesus did not originate truth: His significance was that all He said and did was in the very world of truth.

He laid emphasis on that. He called Himself "the Way, the Truth and the Life" (John 14:6): "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." It makes it obvious that when Jesus expressed His authority in

Mrs. Hamilton Hanagan

Classroom Teachers

In Centennial Year
Hempstead County Classroom Teachers celebrated National Centennial Birthday, with a dinner meeting in the private dining room of the Diamond Cafe, April 9, at 7 p. m.

Mrs. James McLarty, President of the local organization, had charge of the meeting. Junior High School teachers, lead by Earl Downs showed the group how the three tier cake with three candles symbolized the organized strength as classroom teachers in America. These parts were given by Mrs. E. R. Jackson, Mrs. Maurice Merritt and Mrs. Otis Breed. Prayer by Mrs. Mason.

The cake was cut by three of our teachers, showing strength from National level down to local level. The National layer, which was the largest, was cut by one of our retiring teachers, Mrs. Frank Ward. Middle layer was cut by Mild McLarty, showing strength in our present day, the top layer symbolizing the future teachers, was cut by Mrs. Earl Downs.

After the program, the Junior High Glee Club led by Mrs. B. C. Hyatt entertained with two selections.

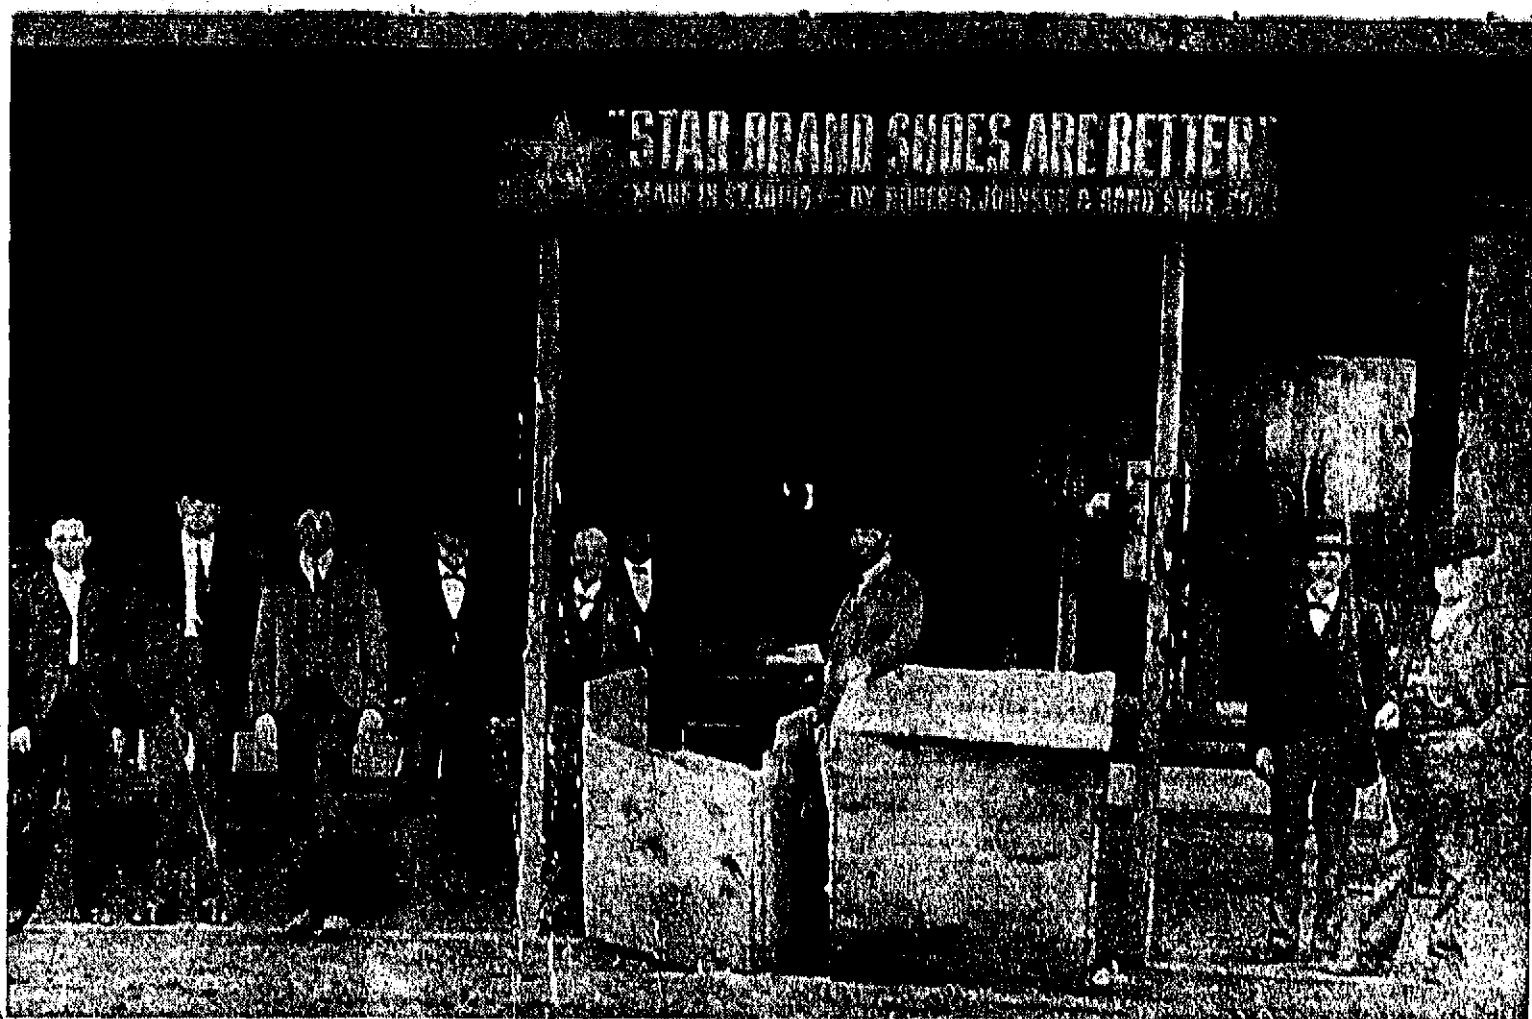

Vice-president, Mrs. B. N. Holt, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Frank Rider, who gave the group an interesting talk on, "Progress Made in the Schools in the last Half Century." The classroom teacher is the key to an educated people — and the child is our greatest challenge.

Forty-five teachers and special guests were present. The same officers were re-elected for the year 1957-58.

DOROTHY DIX

Grow Up! Forget Crush
on Unresponsive Male

Dear Dorothy Dix: When the father of my son, now six years old, refused to marry me, and left town, I was so bitter toward the world that I drew into a shell. A few months ago I met a fellow who interested me. It started with him offering to drive my home, then progressed to a few dates and very sweet letters. He never said he loved me, or kissed me, but I certainly went overboard for him. Then out of a clear sky he said he was going back to his old girl. The shock almost gave me a nervous breakdown. All I want is to retire into a shell again. This fellow "works" with me, so it is very hard to forget him. I'm very lonely and blue, but do want some fun out of life.

JUDITH
Dear Judith: The lesson you must learn is not to go so completely "overboard" over the men you like. Apparently you can't accept masculine friendship as such, but throw yourself headlong into one-sided romances.

Don't you think it's about time you learned to act with maturity? Instead of turning sourful, cow eyes at your recent love, greet him with a casual gaiety. In time, you'll find it takes no effort. Forget about the shells; you're a human, not a crab.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been thinking about taking up nursing. I'm a widow of 40 with a high-school education. Can you give me some information on schools, etc.?

HELENA
Dear Helena: You could train for practical nursing, a field ideal for the women of maturity. Your city has a school of practical nursing. Apply there for details.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a high-school sophomore. I am third highest in my class, haven't had a mark below 90 since I entered, yet my parents are continually complaining about my marks. They say they aren't a bit proud to show my report card. I can't go out at all, must study all the time, sometimes until I have a

"I say unto you" it was because of the truth He had to declare, and not because of an ordinary relationship of a disciple to a master. The disciples, though they were slow to grasp the meaning of what Jesus taught, were deeply attached to Jesus as a person because of the beauty of His life.

But Jesus deprecated merely personal attachment. He said, "Why call ye Me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?"

That raises a very vital question about our relationship to Jesus. If we profess to be Christians, where is our life and allegiance centered? Is it loyalty to a church or organization? Is it loyalty to some doctrine or teaching about Jesus? Is it loyalty to Him as a great figure of religion and history?

or is it supreme loyalty to the truth that He declared, and to the example that He gave? Are we among those who say, "Lord, Lord," but whose lives do not express the reality of all that He said?

It is a great challenge, and the Christ is ever on trial before the judgment seat of our hearts and lives. We may not reject and crucify Him as those did of old, but by neglecting His teaching or by a lack of Christian faith and living, we judge Him none the less, and put ourselves among those of whom He said: "Ye will not come unto me that ye might have life." (John 6:40).

Son of Bandit
Killed in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A police spokesman said today a 10-year-old son of the bandit leader Dadshah has been killed in the running fight with the gang that slew three Americans March 24.

Thelath, Kamal, was reportedly killed a gunfight with police husband. If you don't fancy the role, find a woman who will have respect for you.

between April 1 and April 5. The spokesman said there still is no evidence that Dadshah himself has been slain, as claimed by his brother Ahmed, who was captured Sunday in Pakistan with another brother and other gang members.

Police are continuing a widespread search for Dadshah of his body and other members of the gang that killed Mrs. and Mrs. Kevin Carroll, Brester Wilson and two Iranians in a wild desert area of southeast Iran. The band now is believed to number only eight or nine men.

transforming POWER

How important is this transformer to the electrician! It contains an induction coil for raising or lowering electric pressure. It does not generate power but is master over the current that passes through it. God is that way too. He is master over all. He holds the key to the door and directs the cloud that brings the rain. His love is revealed in the beauty of the rose and his concern for us shown in saving us from the storm. He is Lord, and God, and Master of all. He has the power to control our lives...our wealth...our health. As the transformer is necessary to the distribution of electricity so is His church necessary to the transforming of lives in the community... in the world.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Stewards today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we turn to our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular church-goer and a daily Bible reader.

Teachers at

Bottom of List

CHICAGO (AP) Some school teachers are paid two to three times as much as those in other cities simply because of wide differences in local pay rates, the American Federation of Teachers said today.

The federation's annual salary survey stated:

1. Starting salaries of grade or high school teachers with bachelor's degrees range from the national low of $2,000 a year in Fayetteville, Ark., to $4,674 in East Chicago, Ind., a spread of $2,674.

2. A Fayetteville (BA teacher after six years of teaching may earn only $2,500 a year for the rest of their career in Long Beach, N. Y., after 16 years of teaching, a BA teacher's maximum is $7,900 — a spread of $5,400.

3. In New York's Garden City and Great Neck a teacher with a masters degree can, after working 19 and 24 years respectively, earn up to $5,500 a year. This compared with the top of $2,770 a year which a master's teacher in Camden, Ark., can earn after 11 years of teaching — a spread of $2,770.

Mary Herrick, the federation's research director, said the survey showed a trend toward higher teacher salaries, mostly in the East, Midwest and Far West.

She said the number of cities paying beginning bachelor's degree teachers more than $3,500 annually jumped to 45 from 262 the previous year.

Food and transportation are the two major expenses of out-of-state travelers. Lodging is third in importance, followed by amusements and recreation.

Arkansas Relays Are Postponed

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — The Arkansas Relays were canceled by the University of Arkansas today because of snow and cold weather.

Some 25 New Players in Majors Now

NEW YORK, N. Y. — There has been a hefty six months turnover in major league baseball. Teams will have about 25 new players in the opening day lineups next week.

The Philadelphia Phillies will have four changes: first baseman Ed Bouchee, shortstop Chico Fernandez and outfielders Rip Repulski and Bob Bowman. Bouchee and Bowman are rookies up from Miami of the International League. Repulski was acquired from St. Louis and Fernandez from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The New York Giants will introduce shortstop phenom Andrew Rodgers. They will also reintroduce Whitely Lockman, back from the Cards and Gail Harris, recalled from Minneapolis.

The Chicago Cubs will have third baseman Ray Jablonski, picked up from Cincinnati, and Bob Speake, brought up from the Pacific Coast League. Chicago also will have a new catcher with either ex-Yankee Charley Silveira or rookie Cal Neman, up from Richmond, Va., likely to start.

Cincinnati will have Don Hoak at third base. The Cardinals have a new left fielder and No. 4 batter in Del Ennis, the former Philadelphia star.

The Dodgers probably will have Gene Ciminelli in left field. He was used sparingly in 1956 but has been a spring training sensation this year.

The Milwaukee Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates have remained put on regulars.

In the American, shortstop Billy Hunter and outfielder Bob Cerv, both acquired from the Yankees, will be in the opening Kansas City Athletics lineup as will second sacker Mill Gruff, a former Yank farmhand.

The Chicago White Sox fans will get a glimpse of rookie Jim Landis in the outfield with Bubba Phillips, a utility man last season, at third base and Jim Rivera, an outfielder, at first base.

Cleveland has rookie outfielder Roger Maris. George Strickland, a 56 handyman, likely will start at second base, and Bobby Avila, second sacker, will be at third.

Third baseman Frank Malzone and Gene Mauch, a second baseman, are the new Boston Red Sox. Malzone failed in a brief spring trial in '56 Mauch was purchased from the Coast League late last season.

Tony Kubek, in left field, is the only one to crack the starting lineup for the New York Yankees. He hit .331 for Denver of the American Association last season. Detroit may start Eddie Robinson, obtained from Kansas City, at first base.

The Washington Senators and Baltimore Orioles opening day lineups will be about the same.

Gonzales, Segura Will Battle It Out

CLEVELAND, Ohio — For the third year in a row the Panchos — big Pancho Dick Gonzales and little Pancho Francisco Segura will battle it out in the finals of the professional tennis tournament at the Arena tonight.

The two Los Angeles netters won semifinal matches last night. Segura disposed of Ken Rosewell of Australia 6-2, 6-3, and Gonzales came from behind to win a struggle with Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, 3-6, 11-0, 8-6.

Gonzales, who is shooting for his fifth championship here, lost to Segura in the 1952 finals but beat the 36-year-old shotmaker from Ecuador in the 1955 and 1956 finals.

Trabert, 1955 amateur king, had his net game and service going well against Gonzales in a match that lasted an hour and three quarters. Segura needed only 20 minutes to take Rosewell.

Patterson May Fight in England

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Floyd Patterson, at 21 the youngest champion ever to wear the heavyweight crown, may defend his title for the first time in England this summer. Then again, he may not.

Why not? "Two things," said manager Gus (Custer) Damato. "I would like to have Floyd rematched with Hurricane Jackson, for one."

"And there is an English law now in effect under which at least one of the fighters in a championship bout must be a British subject."

Who would be the other fighter but, if the law is repealed, "I suspect it would be Nine Valdes of Cuba," Damato considered success over there.

"But Jackson's logical contender. The last time they met Patterson was the winner in a 12-round split decision."

Patterson has not appeared in defense of the championship since he knocked out Archie Moore last November in Chicago to win the title vacated by Rocky Marciano's retirement.

He is here to open a series of four-round exhibition bouts the first at Municipal Auditorium tomorrow night. The others include: April 19, Joplin, Mo., and April 23, Wichita, Kan.

Jones Favored Over Vejar

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Fifth-ranked Ralph (Tiger) Jones ruled a 3-1 favorite over Chico Vejar for tonight's middleweight clash of television favorites.

Jones, a too-toe slugger from Yonkers, A. Y., was expected to weigh in at 160, about three pounds more than the former drama student from Stamford, Conn.

It will be the 31st television appearance by Jones and the 28th for Vejar.

Jones, 29, is a busy fighter whose most effective work is in clinches. He has a record of 43 victories, 17 losses and 3 draws. He has scored 11 knockouts.

Vejar, 25, is a former welterweight who has fought six middleweight bouts since December. He is unranked in the divisions.

NBC television and radio will carry the bout at 10 p. m., EST.

Religion Is Credited for Gaining Vision

LOS ANGELES, (UP) — A man who was blind for three months following an auto accident today credited his wife's strong religious faith for the "miraculous" recovery of his eyesight.

Bob Nail, 24, said his sight suddenly returned to him last April 4 after he had gone blind three months previously. He blamed his blindness on a severe concussion suffered in an Illinois auto accident six months ago.

Nail's eyesight returned to him after he came with his wife, Doris, to the Braille Institute. He said doctors had offered him no encouragement and he had hoped his sight was permanently gone.

"But on April 4 I got the oddest sensation," he said. "I suddenly saw shifting shadows and color sensations. Things slowly took shape. I could see clearly."

He said he started yelling "like a cyclone had hit."

Nail credited faith for his eyesight recovery.

"I think the thing that kept me going was that my wife has a lot of faith and I have some and both of us had enough between us to see me through," he said. The Nails are Lutherans.

Deadlock on Money Bills Slows Grants

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Unless a deadlock over a deficiency money bill is broken soon, Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) said today, federal funds will not be available for many public assistance grants including those to the aged.

The bill, first money measure of this session, has been tied up in a bitter fight between the Senate and House since it passed the Senate Feb. 18 with most of the House cuts restored. The House passed it Feb. 5.

Biggest item in the bill is $75 million dollars for the monthly assistance grants to needy persons. This deficiency allotment for the last two months of the current fiscal year ending June 30 was made necessary because Congress increased the federal share of such parents in passing the Social Security bill last year.

There is no dispute over this figure, but its approval is being held up by disagreement over other items in the bill, among them funds for tungsten purchases and for cottonseed cake for cattle in drought areas.

Alaska has a population of about 200,000.

NEEDED: A LADDER—Jim D. Brown, a five-year-old migrant, needs a ladder to reach his dad, four-foot Roger B. Brown, also a migrant. Brown is balanced on the ham-sized hand of seven-foot-three-inch Harvey W. Halbrook, Halbrook, an accountant for an oil company, stars at basketball for his firm's team. Brown—a former professional high diver—works for an airplane company and is especially valuable for his ability to enter tight spaces. All are from Wichita, Kan.

Ford Is Leading at Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Doug Ford, still displaying the touch that carried him to victory in the Masters Tournament last Sunday, was front man by one shot going into today's second round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf tournament.

The husky, 24-year-old professional, playing out of Mahopac, N. Y., put together a pair of 34s yesterday to take the first round with a 68, two under par for the 8,720 yard Sedgwick Country Club course that yielded only three subpar rounds to a field of 135.

115 feet 2 inches.

Larry Vaughn and Byron Smiley tied for third in the Pole Vault with 8 foot 6 inches. Johnny Turner placed fourth in the 220 yard low hurdles.

The Bobcats go to Texarkana next Friday for a 10 team meet.

Athletics Look Real Fine to Kansas City Fans

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

Call em what you like—the Kansas City Athletics or the New team gave the fans something to talk about in their 1957 home debut.

The first major league team to reach home, the ex-Yankee sprinkled Athletics rallied with four runs in the ninth inning yesterday.

A crowd of 8,511 sat in 35-degree weather as the Dodgers piled up a 4-1 lead only to have the Athletics pull it out of the fire with the aid of an error and five singles in the ninth.

The Pittsburgh Pirates rolled to their 19th victory in 27 games when they walloped the Detroit Tigers, 10-2, behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Hall, Elroy Face and Bob Purkey.

The Chicago Cubs won their spring series with the Baltimore Orioles, 10
